

Handling of cookies on our websites

In order to improve the user experience we use Google analytics to understand and analyse how our visitors use our website. One of the cookies we use is `_ga`. Through that we collect information about how our visitors navigate, which pages are visited for how long, how they came to the site and if they have been here previously. This cookie is saved for two years.

The data gathered by Google analytics is stored on Googles servers in the USA. We use these cookies to better understand how our website is used so we can improve it.

We also use information for marketing purposes and the advertising reporting features are activated, as well as remarketing functions. Google might refer this info to a third party if required by law or in cases where a third party handles the information on behalf of Google.

Do you wish to exclude your visits from the data?

If you don't want your visits to be tracked for statistics, you can install a plugin on your web browser. This is available for Internet Explorer, Google Chrome, Mozilla Firefox, Apple Safari and Opera. Install it from Google.
